EXECUTIVE MESSAGE

In 2018, LSNC marked its 62nd year of providing critical legal services to tens of thousands of needy and vulnerable individuals, while also engaging in complex, sophisticated advocacy—through litigation, legislation, administrative advocacy, and community development work—which had a significant positive impact for our entire client community in the areas of affordable housing, public benefits, health, education, and civil rights. This year also brought more devastating wildfires to our rural service areas—especially the Carr Fire in Shasta County, and the Camp Fire in Butte County, which destroyed more than 15,000 homes—requiring LSNC staff and volunteers to once again step forward to provide disaster assistance to our communities. We are very grateful to all who supported our work and mission in 2018.

ABOUT US

OUR MISSION

The mission of Legal Services of Northern California is to provide quality legal services to empower the poor to identify and defeat the causes and effects of poverty within our community, efficiently utilizing all available resources.

OUR WORK

For more than 62 years, Legal Services of Northern California (LSNC) has been fighting for the civil rights of our clients. LSNC is the strong voice that continues to speak out on behalf of low income people in our communities, even as the state and local “safety nets” for the poor continue to crumble.

Most of the local offices that make up LSNC began as offshoots of a volunteer program or a special grant project. The oldest program began in Sacramento County in 1956. For a many years the Sacramento, Auburn, Woodland, Solano, Chico, Redding, and Eureka/Ukiah offices were independent organizations created solely to benefit the low-income residents in their particular communities. Today, all these disparate legal aid programs are integrated into a single organization. As part of a unified organization, each field office is stronger and together they serve low-income families, individuals, and seniors in 23 northern California counties.

Legal Services of Northern California (LSNC) is a program of the Legal Services Corporation (LSC).

Legal Services of Northern California (LSNC) is a United Way Certified Community Partner.

HOUSING PRESERVATION

HOUSING

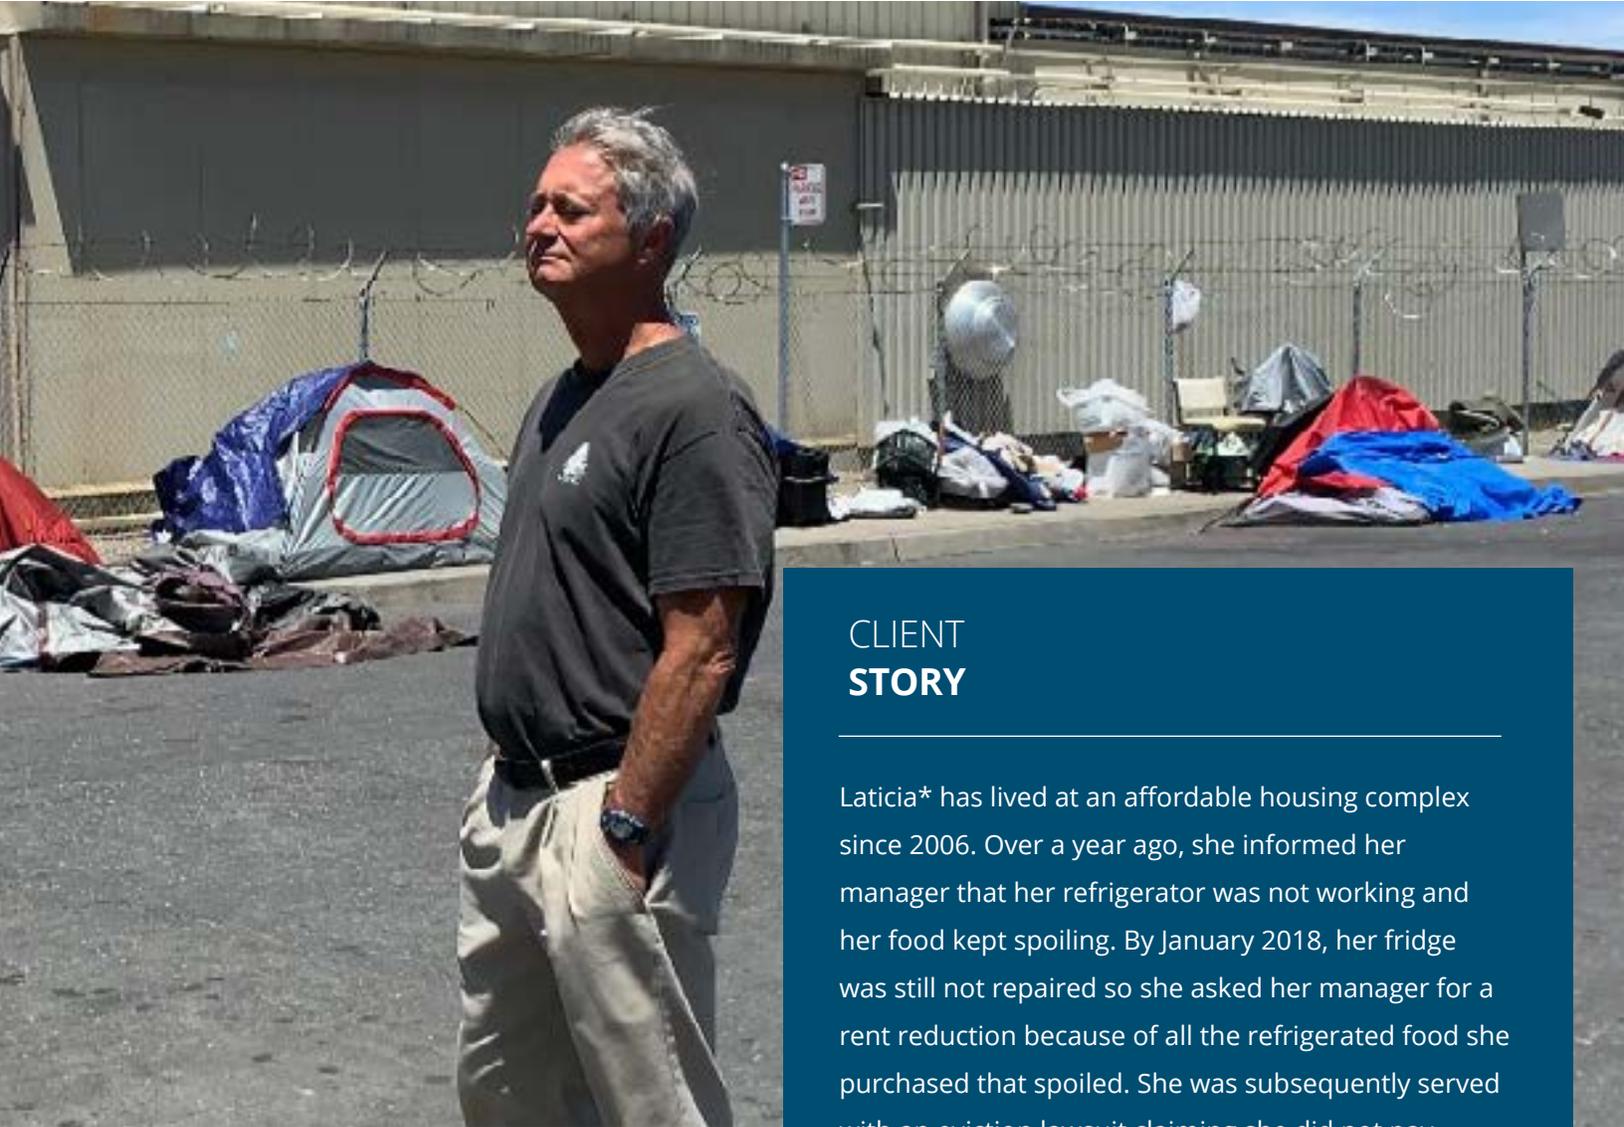

Preservation of affordable, safe and healthy housing continues to be a top priority for Legal Services of Northern California (LSNC). While the affordable housing shortage is widely known in California, the communities LSNC serves were hit particularly hard in 2018. The Sacramento area had the fastest rising rents in the state and the Carr and Camp Fires displaced tens of thousands of people from their homes in lower income communities.

12

LSNC advocates are aggressively responding to the housing crises with a variety of advocacy tools, including providing legal assistance to fire survivors, conducting community education on housing rights, and representing tenants in unlawful detainers to ensure that clients who currently have housing do not lose it and become homeless.

SHRIVER PROJECT

LSNC, the Yolo County Superior Court, and the County of Yolo, have been operating a Housing Court Pilot Project with Sargent Shriver Civil Counsel Act funding since February of 2012. The project provides full representation and a range of unbundled legal services to eligible litigants in unlawful detainer cases. The project also involves

CLIENT STORY

Laticia* has lived at an affordable housing complex since 2006. Over a year ago, she informed her manager that her refrigerator was not working and her food kept spoiling. By January 2018, her fridge was still not repaired so she asked her manager for a rent reduction because of all the refrigerated food she purchased that spoiled. She was subsequently served with an eviction lawsuit claiming she did not pay rent. She was never served with a 3-day notice to pay rent or quit, as required by law. Laticia went to LSNC because she could not afford an attorney on her own. LSNC staff tried to settle the case with her landlord but the case went to trial. At the trial, LSNC was able to successfully prove that Laticia was never served with a 3-day notice. LSNC won the case and Laticia was able to stay in her home.

self-help assistance and mediation provided at the courthouse by LSNC staff. The project contracts with the County to provide housing inspections, which are used by the court as an objective evaluation of the condition of a property in an unlawful detainer case involving breach of the warranty of habitability as a defense.

Shriver Project staff have represented tenants in approximately 800 cases since the project's inception, and has provided unbundled legal services in more than 1,000 cases. NPC Research of Portland, Oregon studied the project and wrote an extensive evaluation, finding that representation by Shriver counsel helped tenants avoid evictions.

ECONOMIC STABILITY

PUBLIC BENEFITS

In 2018, LSNC continued to achieve great results for clients in local and statewide public benefits advocacy. One example includes a civil rights complaint that LSNC filed which resulted in negotiated reforms in a county program to ensure better access to services for disabled persons.

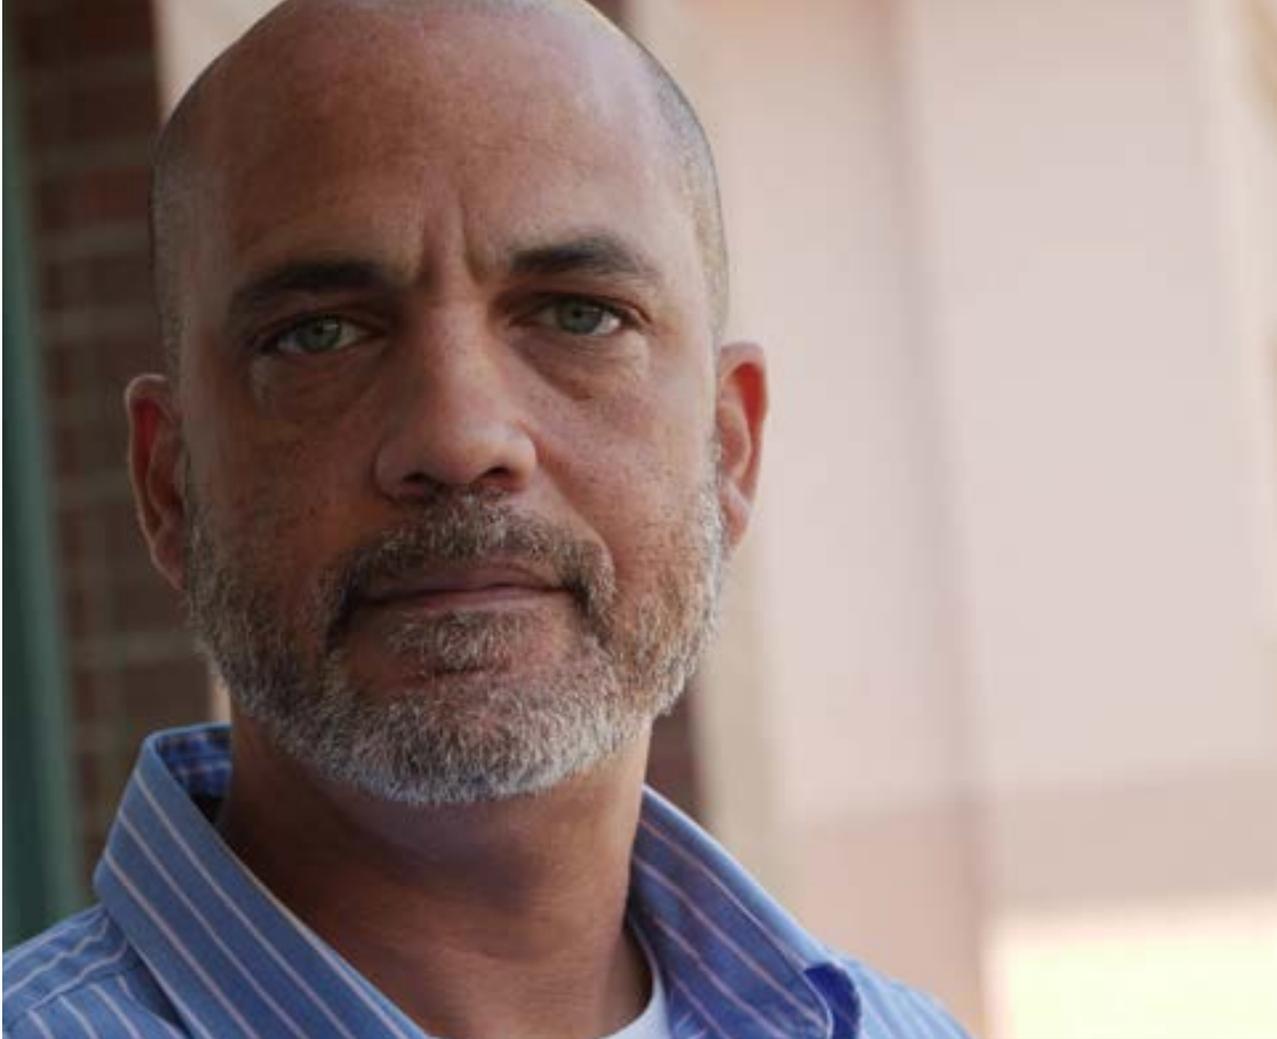

LSNC advocates represented clients in administrative hearings in a variety of public benefit programs, including CalWORKs, CalFresh, In-Home Supportive Services (IHSS), and Supplemental Security Income (SSI), winning decisions that allowed our clients to get and keep the subsistence benefits they rely upon. Advocates also participated extensively in state program workgroups that proactively identify and resolve issues that arise in benefit programs, avoiding the need for time-consuming appeals and litigation. Additionally, LSNC negotiated changes in county and state policies in several areas including CalWorks welfare-to-work policies, supportive services for people participating in welfare-to-work, and state hearings policies and procedures. Overall, LSNC provided assistance in more than 2,700 cases involving non-health public benefits in 2018.

PENSION PROJECT

Since 2007, LSNC's Western States Pension Assistance Project has recovered more than $25 million in retirement benefits for our clients. Project attorneys provide critical legal advice and assistance to hundreds of clients each year, many of whom are unable to resolve their matters on their own, or find other legal assistance. The pension project helps older adults avoid poverty by ensuring the availability, access, and accuracy of hard-earned retirement benefits for participants, retirees, and surviving spouses.

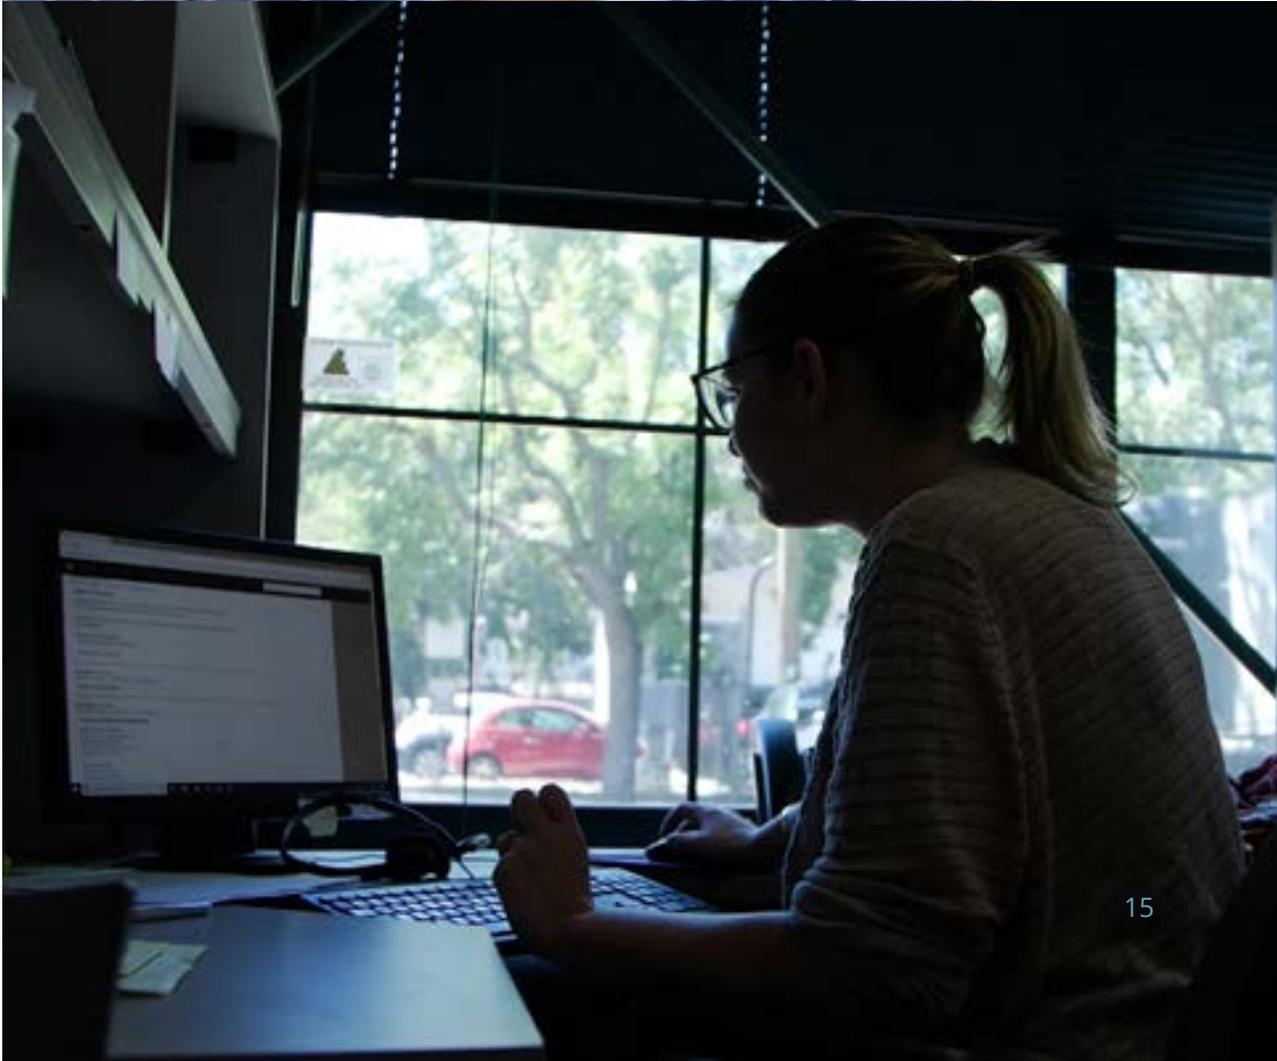

CLIENT STORY

We helped Mary* challenge termination of In-Home Supportive Services (IHSS) benefits for her disabled daughter Tanya*. The county terminated benefits because Mary did not submit records that the county demanded, but were not required. LSNC represented Mary and Tanya in a hearing and two appeals, and a judge ultimately ruled in her favor. Tanya's benefits were reinstated and Tanya received a year of retroactive benefits. In addition, the appeals caused a change in state hearings policy that will allow people in Tanya's situation to have their cases heard promptly.

ACCESS TO HEALTH CARE

LSNC-HEALTH

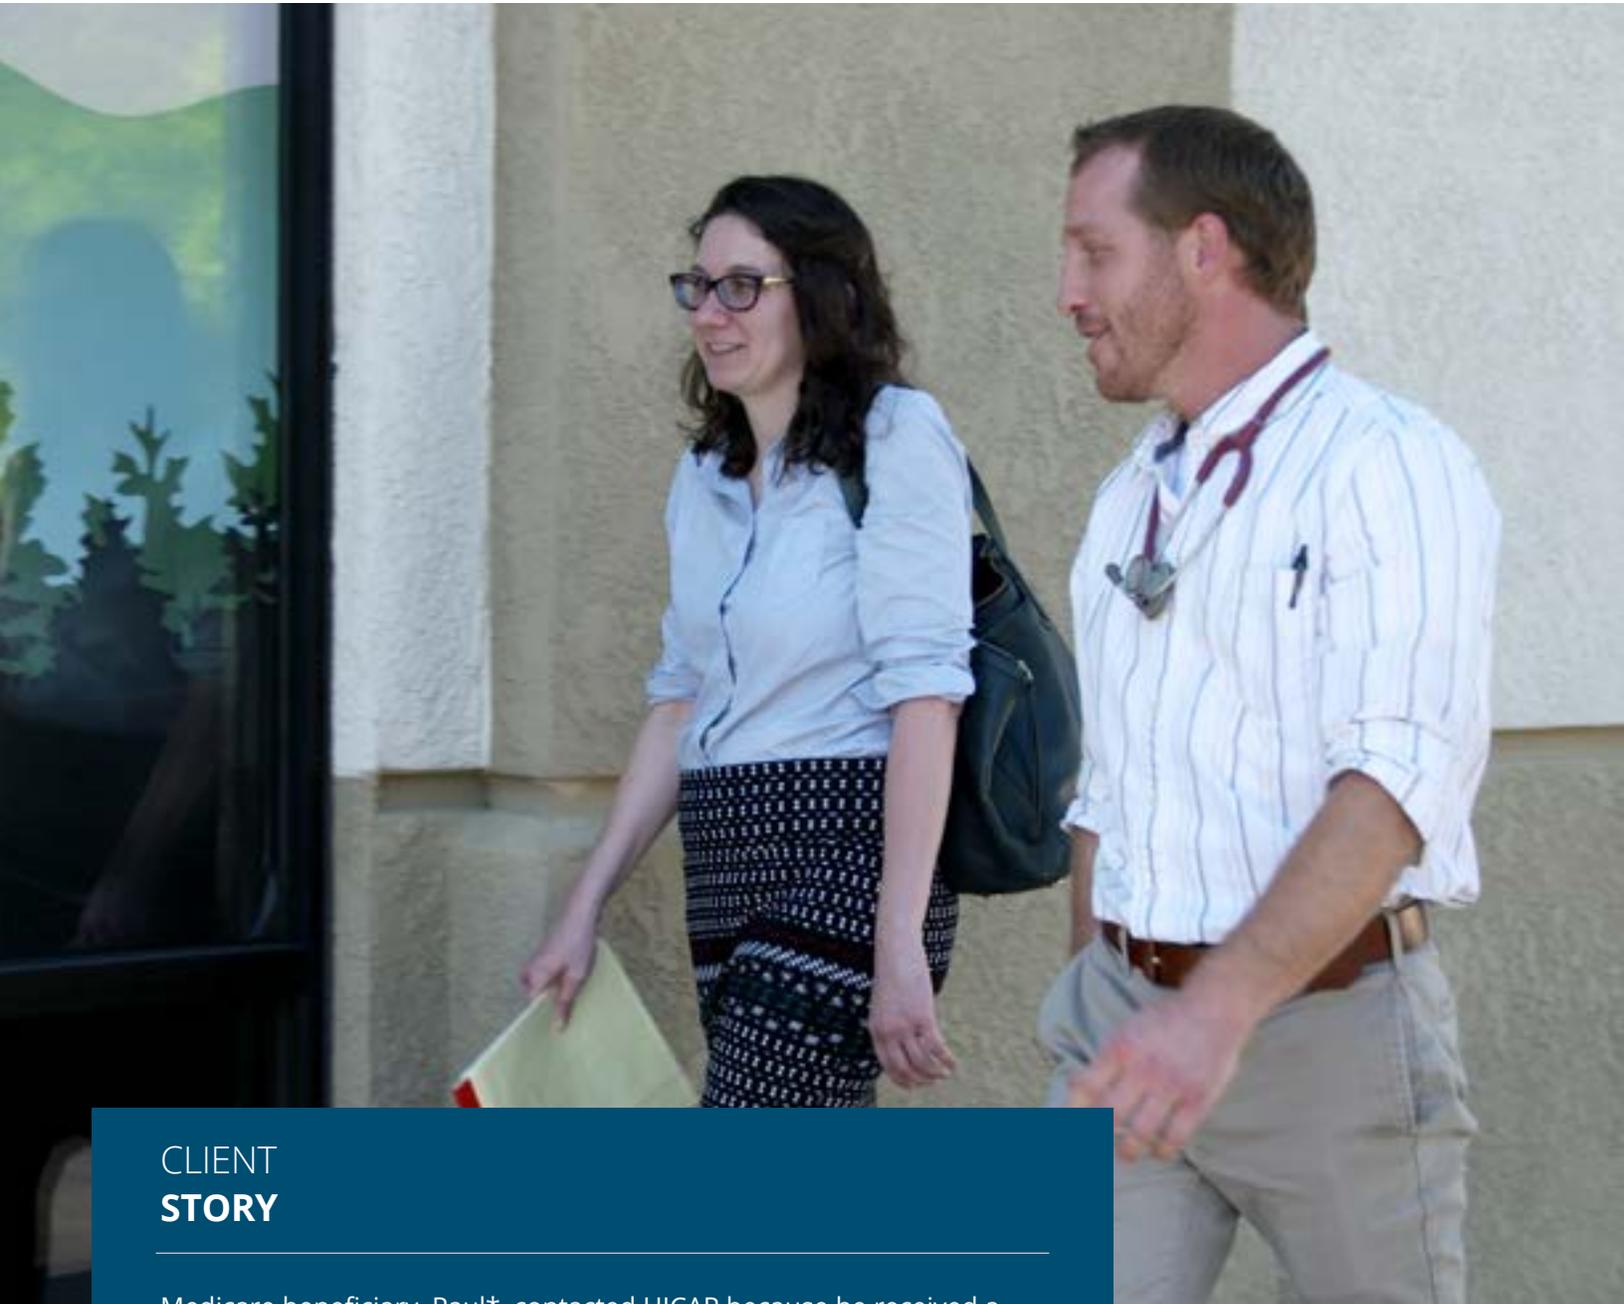

LSNC-Health, a special project of LSNC, provided free legal services to 1,777 clients in 2018 on issues including challenging denials of medically necessary care by public insurance programs and managed care plans, screening for all available insurance options, advising on medical debt, and assisting with non-health related legal barriers preventing patients from improving their overall health. LSNC-Health has a 32-county service area, which includes our 23 traditional LSNC counties as well as Inyo, Mono, Alpine, San Joaquin, Santa Barbara, Santa Cruz, Sutter, Ventura, and Yuba counties. LSNC-Health attorneys are spread across many of LSNC's field offices in order to effectively serve the local communities.

LSNC-Health also engages in many alternative service delivery models, such as outstation legal clinics, outreach presentations to community groups, community-based organizations, and other service providers, as well as medical-legal partnerships. In Sacramento, LSNC-Health partners with various student-run free health clinics through the UC Davis School of Medicine, and also with the Sacramento Vet Center focusing on veterans with mental health conditions. LSNC attorneys work with medical students, doctors, and other health care providers to offer legal services onsite at the clinics, as well as technical assistance and training to the health care providers to screen their patients for health harming legal needs. Our community outreach, clinics and partnerships allow LSNC to reach veterans and other vulnerable populations that may not have access to regular health care.

HICAP

LSNC's Health Insurance Counseling and Advocacy Project (HICAP) serves nine counties and counseled more than 3,400 Medicare beneficiaries during 2018. HICAP's 38 highly trained volunteers and 11 staff members provided advice on issues ranging from prescription drug plan selections to ambulance bill payment denials, providing services locally at senior centers and other service providers in our clients' neighborhoods. HICAP's two attorneys also represented more than 200 beneficiaries in appeals and other complex cases. In 2018, this resulted in a savings of $1,143,511 to Medicare beneficiaries.

CLIENT STORY

Medicare beneficiary, Paul*, contacted HICAP because he received a letter claiming that he would need to pay Medicare back for services he received while he was receiving workers compensation payment after a workplace injury. The HICAP attorney reviewed his workers comp documents and the conditional payment claim, along with letters from his workers comp insurance denying certain procedures for not meeting medical necessity criteria. The attorney drafted a letter on the beneficiary's behalf. After Paul submitted the letter, Medicare agreed that the claims were not related to his workers comp injury. He did not have to pay the nearly $5,000 claim.

VULNERABLE POPULATIONS

SENIOR CITIZENS

In 2018, LSNC provided legal aid to 5,498 older adult (ages 60+) households. Our field office staff staff conducted client interviews via telephone and walk-in visits, as well as regular intake appointments at local senior centers. For limited English proficient clients, LSNC uses language interpretation services during intake. Advocates worked on senior cases involving preservation of housing, consumer law, advance/estate planning, income maintenance, and elder abuse concerns. Last year, LSNC also

CLIENT STORY

Shirley* is a surviving spouse in her eighties, and called LSNC for help with obtaining her share of her late husband's pension benefit. They were married for more than 45 years, but she was denied survivor benefits from his pension and wanted help asserting her rights. Shirley learned that her late husband lied at retirement, told the plan he was divorced, and did not provide any benefits to his surviving spouse. The attorney worked with the plan for over a year, providing all of the necessary proof that Shirley was married, never divorced, and the plan erred in not doing due diligence to support the alleged divorce status. Ultimately, the plan agreed to pay Shirley a survivor benefit of $600/month, and around $54,000 as a retroactive lump-sum payment. As an additional bonus, the surviving spouse status also made Shirley eligible for the plan's retiree medical benefits. Shirley was very grateful for LSNC's persistent advocacy, which helped her secure income and healthcare security in retirement.

provided community legal education to hundreds of seniors throughout northern California..

TRANS AND GENDER-VARIANT CLIENTS

In 2018, the LSNC-Health staff, in partnership with UC Davis School of Law and Gender Health Center (GHC) began a monthly clinic to assist individuals in filing paperwork to legally change their names and/or gender to conform with their gender identities. The clinics were held at GHC, staffed by UC Davis law students and GHC staff, and supervised by LSNC-Health attorneys. The clinic assisted 44 individuals by providing advice and counsel and/or completing name/gender petition paperwork.

LSNC-Health maintains a strong relationship with GHC and consistently receives referrals from their staff regarding access to transition-related health care. GHC and LSNC-Health will continue their work to expand access to health care and improve health outcomes for transgender and gender non-conforming individuals.

DISASTER RELIEF AND RECOVERY

LARGEST 2018 WILDFIRES IN OUR SERVICE AREA

The Carr Fire, which threatened our Shasta Regional Office in Redding, burned 229,651 acres in Shasta and Trinity counties.

The Mendocino Complex Fire burned 459,123 acres and was the largest wildfire in our state's history. It occurred in the service area of our Ukiah Regional Office.

The Camp Fire burned 153,336 acres and was the state's deadliest and most destructive fire, claiming 85 lives and costing $16.5 billion.

Significant natural disasters affected three of LSNC's service areas in 2018. In July, the Mendocino Complex Fire—burning in Mendocino, Lake, Colusa, and Glenn counties—and the Carr Fire—burning in Shasta and Trinity counties—devastated the Ukiah and Shasta regions. In November, the Camp Fire burned in the Butte region.

The Carr Fire led to the evacuation of over 36,000 people, including LSNC staff at our Redding field office. The fire was the seventh most destructive fire in California history, burning more than 200,000 acres. Our Redding office, with help from advocates program-wide, staffed the Disaster Recovery Center, and responded to the community's need for legal assistance.

In November 2018, the Camp Fire spread throughout Butte county, destroying much of the town of Paradise, becoming the deadliest and most destructive wildfire in California history. Our Chico office staffed the Disaster Recovery Center for months, with support from other offices and volunteers. Due to the magnitude of the Camp Fire, LSNC has developed new ways to use pro bono attorneys in disaster relief work, including regular clinics and direct referrals.

LSNC advocates continue to provide legal assistance to affected clients of the fires, which includes help with applying for related benefits, securing rent and security deposit refunds, and advising about price gouging and other issues that arise in post disaster regions. LSNC advocates continue to expand their knowledge about disaster relief and preparedness work.

CLIENT STORY

Greg*, a Camp Fire survivor, called LSNC's Butte Regional Office for help appealing a disaster unemployment insurance denial. The LSNC attorney gathered and submitted the necessary evidence to prove Greg's self-employment, and explain how he became unemployed due to the Camp Fire, which destroyed all of his unique antique merchandise. Greg remains displaced, and living with friends, but thanks to LSNC, he now receives extra financial support to help while he continues to search for new work. LSNC continues to help Greg sort through his FEMA-related questions.

Greg represents one of hundreds of wildfire victims LSNC helped, and one of the several dozen people who came to our office last month alone for legal advice and assistance. LSNC acts as a backstop for the poor when wildfires and other disasters strike in its service area.

THANK YOU MESSAGE

Thank you to all our donors and volunteers who generously supported us last year.

Justice depends on having a fair chance to be heard, regardless of who you are, where you live, or how much money you have. Through your generosity and selflessness, we help provide low-income and vulnerable communities with the legal tools they need to protect their families, homes, and health.

"Pro bono publico - 'for the public good' - not just in the sense of professional work undertaken voluntarily and without payment, but in the sense of a public service to those who are unable to afford the services of skilled professionals. It is a noble and necessary calling for all attorneys."

-CA Chief Justice Tani G. Cantil-Sakauye (October 2014)
